Meeting the Common Core State Standards with Scott Foresman Reading Street

Grade 4

SE = Student Edition; TE = Teacher’s Edition; RWN = Reader’s & Writer’s Notebook

Reading Standards

College and Career Readiness Anchor Standards for Reading

The Common Core State Standards for Reading on the following pages define what students should understand and be able to do in Grade 4. The CCSS Reading Standards build across the grades toward the College and Career Readiness Anchor Standards in the Reading domain, given below. (CCSS Reading standards are divided between Literature, Informational Texts, and Foundational Skills.)

Key Ideas and Details

1. Read closely to determine what the text says explicitly and to make logical inferences from it; cite specific textual evidence when writing or speaking to support conclusions drawn from the text.
2. Determine central ideas or themes of a text and analyze their development; summarize the key supporting details and ideas.
3. Analyze how and why individuals, events, and ideas develop and interact over the course of a text.

Craft and Structure

4. Interpret words and phrases as they are used in a text, including determining technical, connotative, and figurative meanings, and explain how specific word choices shape meaning or tone.
5. Analyze the structure of texts, including how specific sentences, paragraphs, and larger portions of the text (e.g., a section, chapter, scene, or stanza) relate to each other and the whole.
6. Assess how point of view or purpose shapes the content and style of a text.

Integration of Knowledge and Ideas

7. Integrate and evaluate content presented in diverse media and formats, including visually and quantitatively, as well as in words.
8. Delineate and evaluate the argument and specific claims in a text, including the validity of the reasoning as well as the relevance and sufficiency of the evidence.
9. Analyze how two or more texts address similar themes or topics in order to build knowledge or to compare the approaches the authors take.

Range of Reading and Level of Text Complexity

10. Read and comprehend complex literary and informational texts independently and proficiently.
Key Ideas and Details

Literature 1. Refer to details and examples in a text when explaining what the text says explicitly and when drawing inferences from the text.

SE 1: 100, 130, 220, 248, 302, 392, 450; 2: 156, 246, 306, 436

TE 1.1: 29a, 55a, 101a; 2.1: 181a, 205a, 212c, 221a, 239a, 241a, 243a, 249a; 3.1: 388c, 389a, 391a, 393a; 3.2: 447a, 449a, 451a; 4.1: 29a, 37a; 4.2: 141c, 148–149, 149a, 151a, 153a, 155a, 165h, 165l–165m; 5.1: 229c, 237a, 240–241, 241a, 242c, 243a, 245a, 255h, 255l–255m; 5.2: 303a, 305a, 307a, 313a; 6.1: 393a, 395a, 397a, 399a, 401a; 6.2: 423a, 425a, 437a

The program provides Think Critically questions at the end of each Student Edition selection and Extend Thinking/Think Critically and Comprehension Check questions in the Teacher’s Edition lessons for the selections. To answer many of these questions, students must locate specific text details and examples to explain explicit statements in the text or inferences about the text.

Literature 2. Determine a theme of a story, drama, or poem from details in the text; summarize the text.

SE 1: 22–23, 38; 2: 230–231

TE 1.1: 21c, 22–23, 30–31, 31a, 32c, 36–37, 37a, 39a, 97a, 99a; 1.2: 129a; 4.2: 141c; 5.1: 229c, 230–231, 237a, 240–241, 241a, 242c, 243a, 245a, 255h, 255l–255m; 5.2: 304–305, 305a; 6.1: 369a, 397a

As part of their analysis of each literary work, students are asked to summarize, or retell, the text. To do this, they are taught to recognize the most important ideas in the text; to identify the main literary elements, including characters, settings, plot, and theme; and to describe these briefly in their own words.

Literature 3. Describe in depth a character, setting, or event in a story or drama, drawing on specific details in the text (e.g., a character’s thoughts, words, or actions).

SE 1: 80–81; 2: 142–143, 156, 230–231, 246

TE 1.1: 31a, 35a, 37a, 50d, 55a, 67a, 79c, 80–81, 90–91, 91a, 94c, 95a, 96–97, 97a, 99a, 101a, 105a, 109, 109–109m; 1.2: 120–121, 121a, 127a, 128–129, 135a; 2.1: 186–187, 187a, 219a; 3.1: 399a; 3.2: 441a, 449a; 4.2: 141c, 148–149, 149a, 151a, 153a, 155a, 165h, 165l–165m; 5.1: 229c, 237a, 240–241, 241a, 242c, 243a, 245a, 255h, 255l–255m; 5.2: 299a, 303a, 304–305, 305a; 6.1: 386d, 391a, 401a; 6.2: 433a

Character, Setting, and Plot is a major Comprehension Skill in the program and as such is well covered in both the Student Edition and the Teacher's Edition. Student Edition lessons teach students how to identify and describe the characters, settings, and events in the plots of stories using details from the texts. These Student Edition lessons are supported by comprehension lessons and the Story Structure section in the Teacher's Edition. Think Critically questions in the Student Edition and Teacher's Edition check students' ability to find information needed to describe story elements.

Craft and Structure

Literature 4. Determine the meaning of words and phrases as they are used in a text, including those that allude to significant characters found in mythology (e.g., Herculean).

SE 1: 82–83, 114–115, 348; 2: 24–25, 144–145, 232–233

TE 1.1: 87a, 94c; 2.1: 205a, 207a; 3.1: 381a, 383a, 384–385, 385a, 389a; 4.1: 24e, 33a; 6.1: 390–391, 391a, 393a; 6.2: 426–427, 427a, 434–435, 435a

The Vocabulary strand helps students use context clues, including synonyms and antonyms, to determine the meanings of multiple-meaning words and unfamiliar words. In addition, students analyze the meanings of words and phrases used figuratively. In the Teacher's Edition, Guide Comprehension provides modeling and practice in determining word meaning, and Extend Thinking/Think Critically and Comprehension Check include questions about word meaning.

<td>The program provides thorough instruction in the identification, analysis, and interpretation of poetry and drama as well as other forms of literature. The Teacher’s Edition lessons for each form of literature include information and questions about the structure and organization of its features. Each unit in the Student Edition presents a minimum of four poems. The Teacher’s Edition lessons for these poems cover not only structural elements but also sound devices (onomatopoeia, rhyme, meter, repetition), literary devices (tone, symbolism, imagery, mood), and types of poems (lyrical, free verse). Discussion of the elements of poetry and drama, as well as Reading Across Texts questions, encourage comparing and contrasting with elements of the prose forms that students have learned.</td>

| Literature 9. Compare and contrast the treatment of similar themes and topics (e.g., opposition of good and evil) and patterns of events (e.g., the quest) in stories, myths, and traditional literature from different cultures. | SE 1: 134–135, 392, 399, 450
TE 1.2: 131a, 134c, 134–135, 135a; 3.1: 393a, 398–399, 399a
All of the primary selections in the program are paired with another selection on the same or related topic or theme. As students are introduced to and read examples of traditional story genres (e.g., trickster tale, fable, myth) from various cultures, they learn about the characteristics that distinguish each genre from the others and compare and contrast elements in literature. Questions in the Student Edition and Teacher’s Edition ask students to compare these stories to one another. To expand students’ experiences with stories from various cultures, provide appropriate collections in the classroom library or help students find suitable materials in the school library and allow them time to read independently. |

Range of Reading and Level of Text Complexity

Literature 10. By the end of the year, read and comprehend literature, including stories, dramas, and poetry, in the grades 4–5 text complexity band proficiently, with scaffolding as needed at the high end of the range.
Each fiction selection contains up to five opportunities to read a literary text independently, proficiently, and fluently. Routines and practice techniques appear on Student Edition pages with application activities included on the accompanying Teacher’s Edition pages. See the following representative pages for the first three fiction selections in Unit 1:
SE 1: 44, 76, 108
Lessons focus on accuracy, rate, phrasing, punctuation cues, and expression. Each subskill is applied to appropriate selections in a variety of independent reading activities.
Additionally, the Differentiated Instruction pages continue skill development as students read the Concept Literacy Reader; ELL Reader; ELD Reader; and the Below-Level, On-Level, and Advanced Leveled Readers. Guided instruction and practice are included on the DI pages that follow each selection. See TE 1.1: DI•6, DI•11, DI•15, and DI•22 for examples of the Readers for the first fiction selection in Unit 1.
Reading Standards for Informational Texts

Key Ideas and Details

Informational Text 1. Refer to details and examples in a text when explaining what the text says explicitly and when drawing inferences from the text.

The program provides Think Critically questions at the end of each Student Edition selection and Extend Thinking/Think Critically and Comprehension Check questions in the Teacher's Edition lessons for the selections. To answer many of these questions, students must locate specific text details and examples as evidence supporting their or others’ statements about the texts.

Informational Text 2. Determine the main idea of a text and explain how it is supported by key details; summarize the text.

As part of their analysis of each informational text, students are asked to summarize the text. To do this, they are taught to distinguish main ideas from supporting details in the text and to describe the main ideas briefly in their own words.

Informational Text 3. Explain events, procedures, ideas, or concepts in a historical, scientific, or technical text, including what happened and why, based on specific information in the text.

| SE 2: 84, 85, 104, 108–109 | TE 2.2: 273a; 3.1: 320d, 341a; 4.1: 83c, 84–85, 90–91, 91a, 93a, 96c, 98–99, 99a, 101a, 105a, 109a, 111h, 111l–111m; 5.1: 187a, 204d; 6.1: 354d, 364c, 469a |

For each informational text selection, questions in the Student Edition and Teacher's Edition direct students' attention to identifying the sequence of events in the text. Text Structure sections in the Teacher’s Edition also offer instruction and reinforcement in identifying and describing the sequence of events in an informational text.

Craft and Structure

Informational Text 4. Determine the meaning of general academic and domain-specific words or phrases in a text relevant to a grade 4 topic or subject area.

| SE 2: 84, 85, 104, 108–109 | TE 2.2: 273a; 3.1: 320d, 341a; 4.1: 83c, 84–85, 90–91, 91a, 93a, 96c, 98–99, 99a, 101a, 105a, 109a, 111h, 111l–111m; 5.1: 187a, 204d; 6.1: 354d, 364c, 469a |

Each selection lesson plan contains Amazing Words, which are content words related to the unit theme and the specific selection. The words are presented in a variety of contexts and then used by students in daily activities to help them master the use and meanings of the words. Day 1 of each lesson plan also contains Academic Vocabulary to help students learn the meanings of general academic words. See the following representative pages for the five-day lesson plan for one nonfiction selection:

| TE 1.2: 139a, 141a, 142b, 152b, 160b, 165g |

| Informational Text 5. Describe the overall structure (e.g., chronology, comparison, cause/effect, problem/solution) of events, ideas, concepts, or information in a text or part of a text. | SE 1: 140–141, 156, 346–347; 2: 258–259, 278
TE 1.1: 74–75; 1.2: 139c, 162–163, 163a; 2.1: 224–225; 2.2: 273a; 3.1: 348d, 358c, 369a; 4.1: 90–91, 91a; 5.2: 257c, 270c, 278–279, 310–311
The program offers opportunities for students to identify text structure and use it to help them understand text. The Comprehension Strategy of Text Structure (how to identify text structure and how to use text organization, including text features such as headings and clue words, to understand text) is developed in both the Student Edition and Teacher’s Edition. |
| Informational Text 6. Compare and contrast a firsthand and secondhand account of the same event or topic; describe the differences in focus and the information provided. | SE 1: 163, 341; 2: 225, 285, 347
TE 1.2: 163a; 3.1: 341a; 5.1: 197a, 225a; 6.1: 347a
Reading Across Texts questions encourage students to compare and contrast selections with similar topics, themes, or purposes but different forms or points of view. In addition, discuss with students a recent event in the classroom. First, together write an eyewitness account of the event in which you show that you were there when the event occurred. Then together write a secondhand account of the same event in which you pretend you are someone who heard about the event but who was not there at the time. Read aloud the accounts and ask students to compare and contrast the two in terms of focus and information. |
| Integration of Knowledge and Ideas |  |
| Informational Text 7. Interpret information presented visually, orally, or quantitatively (e.g., in charts, graphs, diagrams, time lines, animations, or interactive elements on Web pages) and explain how the information contributes to an understanding of the text in which it appears. | SE 1: 326, 328, 332, 334, 335, 336, 352, 359, 410, 416–417; 2: 76–77, 78–79, 97, 109, 120, 123, 126, 130, 135, 185, 285, 313, 369, 370–371, 446, 453, 455, 457, 458, 461, 462, 471
TE 1.1: 39c, 75a; 1.2: 131c; 2.1: 189c; 2.2: 303c; 3.1: 317c, 326–327, 327a, 330c, 333a, 334–335, 335a, 337a, 343h, 343l–343m, 353a, 358–359, 359a; 3.2: 406d, 411a, 416–417, 417a, 451c; 4.1: 43c, 73c, 76c, 76–77, 78–79, 97a, 109a; 4.2: 113c, 120–121, 121a, 123a, 126c, 127a, 131a, 135a, 139h, 139l–139m; 5.1: 184–185, 185a, 222a, 247; 5.2: 284–285, 285a, 312–313; 6.1: 369a, 370–371, 379a; 6.2: 445c, 448d, 452–453, 453a, 455a, 457a, 458–459, 459a, 460c, 461a, 462–463, 463a, 465a, 471a, 473h, 473l–473m
Students are provided with a wealth of opportunities to work with and extract information from a wide variety of visual and graphic sources in informational texts. Students use this information to support or add to their understanding of the texts. |
| Informational Text 8. Explain how an author uses reasons and evidence to support particular points in a text. | SE 2: 72, 192, 197, 359
TE 1.2: 163a; 2.2: 301a; 4.1: 63a; 5.1: 197a; 5.2: 265a, 277a; 6.1: 335a, 364c
As students read any selection, they are reminded through questions in the Student Edition and Teacher’s Edition to be aware of the author’s role in creating the selection. Relevant questions focus on the author’s purpose for writing, choice of topic or illustrations, inclusion or exclusion of information, and use of evidence to support an opinion, idea, or conclusion. |

| Informational Text 9. Integrate information from two texts on the same topic in order to write or speak about the subject knowledgeably. | SE 1: 163, 307, 341; 2: 79, 109, 197, 225, 285, 313, 379
TE 1.2: 163a; 2.2: 307a; 3.1: 341a; 4.1: 79a, 109a; 5.1: 197a, 225a; 5.2: 285a, 313a; 6.1: 379a
The purpose of the Reading Across Texts questions in the Student Edition is to give students opportunities to compare two texts, a main selection and a paired selection, that have a related topic but are different in other ways. As part of students’ analysis of the two selections, ask them to identify and summarize the information that the two texts have in common. |

Range of Reading and Level of Text Complexity

Informational Text 10. By the end of year, read and comprehend informational texts, including history/social studies, science, and technical texts, in the grades 4–5 text complexity band proficiently, with scaffolding as needed at the high end of the range.
Each nonfiction selection contains up to five opportunities to read the informational text independently, proficiently, and fluently. Routines and practice techniques appear on Student Edition pages with application activities included on the accompanying Teacher’s Edition pages. See the following representative pages for the first three nonfiction selections in Units 1 and 2:
SE 1: 141, 143, 164, 259, 282, 287, 308
TE 1.2: 140–141, 142–143, 157b, 164–165, 165j–165k; 2.2: 258–259, 275b, 282–283, 283j–283k, 286–287, 303b, 308–309, 309j–309k
Lessons focus on accuracy, rate, phrasing, punctuation cues, and expression. Each subskill is applied to appropriate selections with a variety of independent reading activities.
Additionally, the Differentiated Instruction pages continue skill development as students read the Concept Literacy Reader; ELL Reader; ELD Reader; and the Below-Level, On-Level, and Advanced Leveled Readers. Guided instruction and practice are included on the DI pages that follow each selection. See TE 1.2: DI•106, DI•111, DI•115, and DI•122 for examples of the Readers for the first nonfiction selection in Unit 1.

Writing Standards

College and Career Readiness Anchor Standards for Writing

The Common Core State Standards for Writing on the following pages define what students should understand and be able to do in Grade 4. The CCSS Writing Standards build across the grades toward the College and Career Readiness Anchor Standards in the Writing domain, given below.

Text Types and Purposes
1. Write arguments to support claims in an analysis of substantive topics or texts, using valid reasoning and relevant and sufficient evidence.
2. Write informative/explanatory texts to examine and convey complex ideas and information clearly and accurately through the effective selection, organization, and analysis of content.
3. Write narratives to develop real or imagined experiences or events using effective technique, well-chosen details, and well-structured event sequences.

Production and Distribution of Writing
4. Produce clear and coherent writing in which the development, organization, and style are appropriate to task, purpose, and audience.
5. Develop and strengthen writing as needed by planning, revising, editing, rewriting, or trying a new approach.
6. Use technology, including the Internet, to produce and publish writing and to interact and collaborate with others.

Research to Build and Present Knowledge
7. Conduct short as well as more sustained research projects based on focused questions, demonstrating understanding of the subject under investigation.
8. Gather relevant information from multiple print and digital sources, assess the credibility and accuracy of each source, and integrate the information while avoiding plagiarism.
9. Draw evidence from literary or informational texts to support analysis, reflection, and research.

Range of Writing
10. Write routinely over extended time frames (time for research, reflection, and revision) and shorter time frames (a single sitting or a day or two) for a range of tasks, purposes, and audiences.

The program’s Let’s Write It! pages in the Student Edition and the accompanying Teacher’s Edition lessons, which guide students through the writing process, present three kinds of persuasive, or opinion, writing. As they work through the process, students use details to support their opinions. |
| Writing 1.a. Introduce a topic or text clearly, state an opinion, and create an organizational structure in which related ideas are grouped to support the writer’s purpose. | SE 1: 304–305; 2: 132–133, 280–281
TE 2.2: 287e–287f, 297d–297e, 305b–305c, 309d; 4.2: 115e–115f, 125d–125e, 132–133, 133b, 139d–139e; 5.2: 259e–259f, 269d–269e, 280–281, 281a, 281b, 287d–287e, 287p–287q, CW•11–CW•20
The Let’s Write It! pages in the Student Edition present three kinds of persuasive, or opinion, writing. The daily writing sections in the accompanying Teacher’s Edition lessons guide students step by step through the writing process. For example, on Days 1 and 2, students analyze a writing model and plan a first draft in which they offer their opinion on a given issue or topic and organize their ideas. Also, the Customize Writing/Writing Process pages guide students through a five-stage writing process, from persuasive writing prompt to finished product. Reader’s and Writer’s Notebook (RWN) pages provide the models, graphic organizers, and activities that accompany Teacher’s Edition lessons and Writing Process pages. In addition, Look Back and Write prompts at the end of selections in the Student Edition often ask students to state their opinion about an issue or topic in writing. |
| Writing 1.b. Provide reasons that are supported by facts and details. | SE 1: 304–305; 2: 132–133, 280–281
TE 2.2: 287e–287f, 297d–297e, 309d–309e; 4.2: 115e–115f, 125d–125e, 132–133, 133b, 139d; 5.2: 259e–259f, 269d–269e, 280–281, 281b, 287d–287e, CW•11–CW•20
See the statement for Writing Standard 1.a. The mini-lessons provided in the Teacher’s Edition lessons on Days 2 and 3 help students focus on their supporting facts and details as they fill out a graphic organizer and study a topic pertinent to the writing form, such as the use of effective topic sentences. The Writing Process pages, RWN pages, and Look Back and Write prompts all remind students that the use of strong supporting evidence is a key feature in persuasive/opinion writing. |

Students revise their drafts on Day 4 of the Teacher’s Edition lessons. Adding or deleting information, reorganizing sentences, and adding transition or linking words or phrases are strategies that are suggested to and discussed with students during the revising stage. Also, as part of Peer Revision, students can point out places in their partners’ drafts where linking words or phrases can be added to better connect ideas. |

RWN: 154, 381, 384
See the statement for Writing Standard 1.a. The drafting and revising stages of all writing lessons as well as all models, graphic organizers, and checklists either provide examples of, support the writing of, or remind students about the need for a conclusion as part of the structure of their persuasive/opinion writing. In addition, encourage students to practice writing a summarizing sentence about their opinion that they could use to conclude their writing. |
| Writing 2. Write informative/explanatory texts to examine a topic and convey ideas and information clearly. | SE 1: 70–71, 222–223, 276–277, 364–365, 422–423; 2: 106–107, 344–345

The program’s writing strand includes opportunities for writing a variety of expository texts, or informative/explanatory texts. Together the Student Edition’s Let’s Write It! pages and the accompanying Teacher’s Edition lessons guide students through the writing process in which they prewrite, draft, revise, edit and proofread, and publish their written work. For example, on Days 1 and 2, students analyze a writing model and plan a first draft in which they state the topic and organize their ideas in a way that is logical for the kind of expository writing. Also, the Customize Writing (CW) pages guide students through a five-stage writing process, from expository writing prompt to finished product. The Reader’s and Writer’s Notebook (RWN) pages provide the models, graphic organizers, and activities that accompany the Teacher’s Edition lessons and CW pages. In addition, Look Back and Write prompts at the end of the selections in the Student Edition often ask students to write a main idea and supporting details about a topic. |

As students are introduced to different forms of expository/informative/explanatory writing, they are also introduced to any vocabulary specific to a given form and essential to creating an appropriate example of that form. This vocabulary appears in both the Student Edition and the Teacher’s Edition lessons for the writing form. Examples are cause and effect for a cause and effect essay; headline, byline, and lead for a news article; and heading, salutation, and closing for a formal letter. As students develop their written texts, they use topic-related terms and precise language to convey their ideas. As part of the writing process, suggestions are provided for revising written work. The program’s writing strand includes opportunities for students to write the following narrative forms: realistic fiction, parody, personal narrative, narrative poem, myth, mystery, adventure, fantasy, legend, and play. As students work through the writing process, they are guided to use effective techniques, clear sequence, and descriptive details in developing their stories. The Let’s Write It! pages in the Student Edition present writing genre and the daily writing sections in the accompanying Teacher’s Edition lessons guide students step by step through the writing process. For example, on Days 1 and 2, students analyze a writing model and plan a first draft in which they organize their ideas, taking into consideration the elements of the particular kind of narrative writing. Also, the Customize Writing (CW) pages guide students through a five-stage writing process, from narrative writing prompt to finished product. Reader’s and Writer’s Notebook (RWN) pages provide the models, graphic organizers, and activities that accompany the Teacher’s Edition lessons and CW pages.

Writing 3.a. Orient the reader by establishing a situation introducing a narrator and/or characters; organize an event sequence that unfolds naturally.

See the statement for Writing Standard 3 above. As students develop their narratives, they establish setting, introduce characters, give their characters and narrator a voice, and develop a plot, using a logical sequence of events.

See the statement for Writing Standard 3. The mini-lessons provided in the Teacher's Edition lessons on Days 2 and 3 help students focus on the elements they need to include and the techniques they can use to write a particular kind of narrative. They fill out a graphic organizer and study a topic pertinent to the writing form, such as choosing vivid words or building a plot. All lessons remind students that the development of strong, engaging story elements—characters, setting, plot, theme—is a key feature in narrative writing. |
| Writing 3.c. Use a variety of transitional words and phrases to manage the sequence of events. | TE 1.2: 141e–141f, 165d–165e, CW•16, CW•18; 4.2: CW•11; 5.1: 227d–227e; 6.2: 459d–459e
RWN: 85
Students revise their drafts on Day 4 of the Teacher's Edition lessons. Adding or deleting details, replacing vague or weak words with more exact or more vivid words, and adding transitional words and phrases are strategies that are suggested to and discussed with students during the revising stage. Also, as part of Peer Revision, students can point out places in their partners' drafts where transitional words or phrases can be added to make the sequence of events clearer to readers. Remind students that time order words and phrases include first, next, then, last, finally, after, before, later, in the meantime, and phrases that mention times of day, days, months, or years. |
| Writing 3.d. Use concrete words and phrases and sensory details to convey experiences and events precisely. | SE 1: 40–41, 338–339; 2: 74–75, 194–195, 220–221, 248–249, 406–407

Both the Student Edition and Teacher's Edition lessons strongly emphasize the importance of word choice in narrative writing. In addition to discussing specific examples of concrete words and sensory details in models in the Student Edition and the Teacher's Edition, many of the mini-lessons in the Teacher's Edition lessons focus on word choice, for example, Using Vivid Words, Choosing Your Words, Choosing Exact Words, and Using Strong Verbs. Other lessons focus on adding descriptive details. Students learn that both when they draft and when they revise, they should look for vague words that can be replaced with more concrete or exact words and for weak words that can be replaced with more vivid sensory words. |

See the statement for Writing Standard 3.a. The drafting and revising stages of all writing lessons as well as all models, graphic organizers, and checklists either provide examples of, support the writing of, or remind students about the need for a conclusion as an important part of the structure of their narrative writing. In addition, ask students to reread the conclusions of several favorite stories or books and note how these authors wrap up their narratives in satisfying ways. Suggest that students then evaluate how well their conclusion performs the same task.

Production and Distribution of Writing

| Writing 4. Produce clear and coherent writing in which the development and organization are appropriate to task, purpose, and audience. | Every week, students are introduced to a new writing form in the Student Edition. The accompanying Teacher's Edition lessons guide students step by step through the process of writing that particular form. At the end of each unit, the Customize Writing/Writing Process pages also use a step-by-step writing process to present another type of writing. Students are presented with numerous opportunities to produce longer examples of clear, coherent writing in which they demonstrate their understanding of the requirements for a particular writing task, purpose, and audience.
See Writing Standards 1–3 (Text Types and Purposes) for the references for all writing opportunities. See the following representative pages for Unit 1:

| Writing 5. With guidance and support from peers and adults, develop and strengthen writing as needed by planning, revising, and editing. | The weekly writing lessons in the Student Edition and Teacher’s Edition and the unit Writing Process lessons in the Teacher’s Edition are both based on an approach that divides the writing process into five steps. Three of these steps are Plan, Revise, and Edit. In the weekly lessons these three steps are presented on Days 2, 4, and 5, respectively. Day 4 also includes Peer Revision, during which student partners exchange drafts and offer ideas for strengthening one another’s writing. See the following representative pages for planning, revising, and editing in Unit 1:

At the midpoint of each unit are the Customize Writing/21st Century Writing pages. Like the Customize Writing/Writing Process pages, these writing pages follow a five-step writing process; however, they emphasize the use of technology to produce and publish writing. The 21st Century Writing projects for Grade 4 are E-Newsletter, Podcast, Photo Essay, Story Exchange, E-Pen Pals, and Blog. Also, in some lessons, the Synthesize portion of the Research and Inquiry strand suggests that students use a word-processing program to prepare presentations and reports. See, for example, TE 1.1: 45b, 215b, 255b.

Research to Build Knowledge

| Writing 7. Conduct short research projects that build knowledge through investigation of different aspects of a topic. | Each Teacher’s Edition lesson contains a weekly research project. The topic of this research project is always tied to the Question of the Week and the topic of the main Student Edition selection. The research project is divided into five steps—Identify Questions, Navigate/Search, Analyze, Synthesize, and Communicate—and one step is presented on each of the five days in the lesson. Students begin by posing questions about the topic and end by presenting a brief report on the topic to their classmates. See the following representative pages for the weekly research projects in Unit 1: TE 1.1: 23b, 31b, 39d, 45b, 61b, 69d, 77b, 77n, 81b, 93b, 101d, 109b, 109n; 1.2: 113b, 123b, 127b, 127n, 131d, 141b, 151b, 157d, 165b, 165n |

| Writing 8. Recall relevant information from experiences or gather relevant information from print and digital sources; take notes and categorize information, and provide a list of sources. | The weekly research project in each Teacher’s Edition lesson is divided into five steps. During the Navigate/Search step, students gather relevant information from various sources, take notes, and organize their evidence. During Analyze and Synthesize, they restate the information they find. During Synthesize, they also collect and arrange basic bibliographic information for the sources they used. See the following representative pages for the relevant steps in the weekly research projects in Unit 1: TE 1.1: 31b, 39d, 45b, 61b, 69d, 77b, 93b, 101d, 109b, 109n; 1.2: 123b, 127b, 131d, 151b, 157d, 165b |

| Writing 9. Draw evidence from literary or informational texts to support analysis, reflection, and research. | SE 1: 38, 68, 100, 130, 156, 188, 220, 248, 274, 302, 336, 362, 392, 420, 450; 2: 42, 72, 104, 130, 156, 192, 218, 248, 274, 306, 342, 372, 404, 436, 464 TE 1.1: 39a, 69a, 101a; 1.2: 131a, 157a; 2.1: 189a, 211a, 249a; 2.2: 275a, 303a; 3.1: 337a, 363a, 393a; 3.2: 421a, 451a; 4.1: 43a, 73a, 105a; 4.2: 131a, 157a; 5.1: 193a, 219a, 247a; 5.2: 279a, 307a; 6.1: 343a, 373a, 405a; 6.2: 437a, 465a |

The Look Back and Write prompts at the end of the literature and informational selections in the Student Edition ask students to write extended responses to questions about the texts. These questions require students to analyze and reflect on the text, to provide evidence from the texts to support their ideas, and to demonstrate what they have learned about the key features of literature texts. The accompanying Teacher’s Edition pages provide guidelines and scoring rubrics for evaluating students’ responses.

Range of Writing

| Writing 10. Write routinely over extended time frames (time for research, reflection, and revision) and shorter time frames (a single sitting or a day or two) for a range of discipline-specific tasks, purposes, and audiences. | Each week, students complete a writing project, which, because it takes place over the course of five days, gives them time for research, reflection, and revision. Throughout the week, students also complete numerous shorter writing tasks. See the following representative pages for both kinds of writing in Unit 1, Week 1: SE 1: 24, 38, 40–41, 43, TE 1.1: 23b, 23e–23f, 24e, 31d–31e, 39a, 40–41, 41a, 41b–41c, 43a, 45b, 45d–45e, 45p–45q, RWN: 41, 45 |

The Common Core State Standards for Speaking and Listening on the following pages define what students should understand and be able to do in Grade 4. The CCSS Speaking and Listening Standards build across the grades toward the College and Career Readiness Anchor Standards in the Speaking and Listening domain, given below.

Comprehension and Collaboration
1. Prepare for and participate effectively in a range of conversations and collaborations with diverse partners, building on others’ ideas and expressing their own clearly and persuasively.
2. Integrate and evaluate information presented in diverse media and formats, including visually, quantitatively, and orally.
3. Evaluate a speaker’s point of view, reasoning, and use of evidence and rhetoric.

Presentation of Knowledge and Ideas
4. Present information, findings, and supporting evidence such that listeners can follow the line of reasoning and the organization, development, and style are appropriate to task, purpose, and audience.
5. Make strategic use of digital media and visual displays of data to express information and enhance understanding of presentations.
6. Adapt speech to a variety of contexts and communicative tasks, demonstrating command of formal English when indicated or appropriate.

The Listening and Speaking activities on the Let’s Learn It! pages of the Student Edition and the accompanying Teacher’s Edition lessons provide numerous opportunities for students to prepare presentations with appropriate main ideas and supporting details. Students gather information, write the presentation, prepare visuals, and finally give the presentation. In addition, the Research and Inquiry strand provides weekly opportunities for students to research topics, compile information, and prepare a presentation, which they present at the end of the week. See, for example, TE 1.1: 49b, 61b, 69d, 77b, 77n. Review comprehension lessons on identifying main idea and supporting details to help students as they prepare their presentations. The lessons provide explicit instruction in identifying main ideas and details in written materials. See, for example, TE 4.1: 139c, 140–141, 146–147. Remind students to include supportive facts and details for their main ideas in their presentations.
Speaking/Language 5. Add audio recordings and visual displays to presentations when appropriate to enhance the development of main ideas or themes.
SE 1: 109, 137, 165, 429, 459; 2: 165, 255

6.1: 413n
The Listening and Speaking and Media Literacy activities on the Let’s Learn It! pages of the Student Edition and the accompanying Teacher’s Edition lessons suggest using recordings and visuals to support oral presentations. Suggestions for the types of visuals to use and where to find appropriate visuals are included. In addition, the Research and Inquiry strand provides weekly opportunities for students to prepare a variety of presentation materials, including posters, graphs, charts, and photographs, which they present at the end of the week. See, for example, TE 2.1: 175b, 183b, 189d, 195b, 195n.
Speaking/Language 6. Differentiate between contexts that call for formal English (e.g., presenting ideas) and situations where informal discourse is appropriate (e.g., small-group discussion); use formal English when appropriate to task and situation.
SE 1: 77, 328, 334, 429
TE 3.1: 320d, 329a, 335a, 343i
The Literary Terms: Formal and Informal Language lesson on TE 3.1: 320d discusses the use of formal and informal language in spoken and written works. Students have many opportunities to determine which kind of language to use in presentations. Help students decide whether to use formal or informal language based on the type of speaking situation. Identify situations and ask students whether the context requires formal language and to explain why. Use these contexts: a conversation between friends, a weather report for children, the President’s State of the Union Address, a graduation ceremony, instructions for how to play a game, and so on. Then when students begin working on each speaking activity in the program, have them identify the reason for speaking and whether they should use formal or informal language for their presentation. |
Language Standards

College and Career Readiness Anchor Standards for Language

The Common Core State Standards for Language on the following pages define what students should understand and be able to do in Grade 4. The CCSS Language Standards build across the grades toward the College and Career Readiness Anchor Standards in the Language domain, given below.

Conventions of Standard English
1. Demonstrate command of the conventions of standard English grammar and usage when writing or speaking.
2. Demonstrate command of the conventions of standard English capitalization, punctuation, and spelling when writing.

Knowledge of Language
3. Apply knowledge of language to understand how language functions in different contexts, to make effective choices for meaning or style, and to comprehend more fully when reading or listening.

Vocabulary Acquisition and Use
4. Determine or clarify the meaning of unknown and multiple-meaning words and phrases by using context clues, analyzing meaningful word parts, and consulting general and specialized reference materials, as appropriate.
5. Demonstrate understanding of word relationships and nuances in word meanings.
6. Acquire and use accurately a range of general academic and domain-specific words and phrases sufficient for reading, writing, speaking, and listening at the college and career readiness level; demonstrate independence in gathering vocabulary knowledge when encountering an unknown term important to comprehension or expression.

In the Student Edition, grammar and usage are taught in conjunction with the weekly writing lesson. In the Teacher's Edition, grammar and usage, along with capitalization and punctuation, are taught in the Conventions strand that appears in all lessons. The Conventions topic presented in the Let's Write It! lesson in the Student Edition is taught and practiced in all the Teacher's Edition lessons for the week. The topic also appears in the Differentiated Instruction pages at the end of the week and in the Interactive Review week at the end of the unit.

| Language 1.a. Use relative pronouns (who, whose, whom, which, that) and relative adverbs (where, when, why). | The Conventions strand of the program presents grammar topics including use of pronouns and adverbs. The lessons for pronouns focus on singular and plural forms, case, demonstrative pronouns, and reflexive pronouns. Adverb instruction focuses on adverbs modifying verbs, adverbs, and adjectives. The Conventions strand also presents clauses in complex sentences. When discussing complex sentences in Unit 1 (TE 1.1: 141d, 151c, 157e, 165), point out to students that words such as who, whom, which, that, when, where, and why can introduce clauses in complex sentences. Then introduce the relative pronouns by providing the following examples:

- Amanda is the only employee who uses that computer.
- Josh was the person to whom all the data was given.
- The cap that I’m wearing belongs to my brother.
- This path, which goes through the park, is five miles long.

After discussing the relative pronouns, write these sentences on the board and ask students to complete the sentences with the correct pronoun.

- The book ______ I borrowed from the library is due Monday. (that)
- The student _____ we elect as class president will give an acceptance speech at the assembly. (whom)
- Monarch butterflies, _____ are orange and black, migrate south every fall. (which)
- The runner _____ won this race finished third in the last race. (who)

Use the following examples to introduce the relative adverbs when, where, and why:

- I saw Meredith when I was at the library.
- Ivan used a map to show me where Kenya is in Africa.
- We wanted to know why the program did not start on time.

Have students look for sentences with relative adverbs in Student Edition selections. Ask them to share the sentences they find with the class.

When discussing action/linking verbs and main/helping verbs, review verb tenses with students. Remind them that by changing the form of a verb, they can show whether something is happening now, has happened in the past, or will happen in the future.

- Present tense
  I walk. She walks. They walk.

- Past tense
  You walked. He walked. We walked.

- Future tense
  It will walk. They will walk.

Explain that each tense also has a progressive form that is used to show continuous action, that is, action that is, was, or will be going on without stopping.

- Present progressive
  I am walking. She is walking. They are walking.

- Past progressive
  You were walking. He was walking. We were walking.

- Future progressive
  It will be walking. They will be walking.

In each example, point out the main verb, which always has the -ing ending, and the helping verb, which is always a form of the verb be. Offer simple present, past, and future tense sentences and ask students to make the sentences show ongoing action by using the progressive forms. For example: He reads a book. (He is reading a book.) She kicked the ball. (She was kicking the ball.) We will ride the bus. (We will be riding the bus.)

Language 1.c. Use modal auxiliaries (e.g., can, may, must) to convey various conditions.

| In the Teacher’s Edition, verbs are formally presented as part of the Conventions strand of unit 3 lessons. Lessons focus on action and linking verbs, main and helping verbs, subject-verb agreement, verb tense, and irregular verbs. When discussing main and helping verbs in Unit 3 (TE 3.1: 347d, 357c, 363e, 371c), extend the lesson to the modal auxiliaries. Explain that the modal auxiliary verbs such as can, must, and may help express conditions such as ability, need, and permission. Write these examples on the board:

- I can do cartwheels. (has the ability to do cartwheels)
- Mother said Ana may go to the movies with her friends. (has permission to go)
- Devon must be home by six o’clock. (has the need to be home)

Discuss the sentences. Then ask students to locate modal auxiliary verbs in a Student Edition selection. Ask them to share the examples they find with the class. |

| Language 1.d. Order adjectives within sentences according to conventional patterns (e.g., a small red bag rather than a red small bag). | In the Student Edition, adjectives are taught in conjunction with several weekly writing lessons. In the Teacher's Edition, adjectives are formally presented as part of Conventions in the Language Arts section of several lessons. When discussing adjectives in Unit 5 (TE 5.1: 175d, 185c, 193e, 199c), point out to students that more than one adjective can be used to describe a noun. Write the following examples on the board:
  - large blue lake
  - two small green turtles
  - big white smile
  - three tiny beads
  - two gold rings
  Explain that the examples show how we usually order adjectives. Point out that we usually place number adjectives first, then adjectives for size, and then adjectives for color. Have students write a sentence with at least two adjectives modifying one of the nouns in each of the sentences. Ask students to share their sentences with partners, who check that the adjectives are placed in a conventional pattern. |
| Language 1.e. Form and use prepositional phrases. | SE 2: 309
TE 5.2: 291d, 301c, 307e, 308–309, 315c, 315o, 315p–315q
In the Teacher's Edition, prepositions and prepositional phrases are formally presented as part of the Conventions strand. In the Student Edition, prepositions and prepositional phrases are taught in conjunction with a writing lesson. Students also proofread their own writing for correct use of prepositions and prepositional phrases in the proofreading phase of the writing process. The process is included in the Teacher's Edition lesson that accompanies the Let's Write It! activity in the Student Edition. |

| Language 1.f. Produce complete sentences, recognizing and correcting inappropriate fragments and run-ons. | SE 1: 103, 304; 2: 195

3.2: 459p;
5.1: 195b, Di•25;
6.1: 363e
When discussing complete subjects and predicates in sentences, remind students that a complete sentence is one that has both a subject and a predicate. Offer incomplete sentences that are missing either a subject or a predicate and ask students to make the sentences complete. For example: The children on the team (The children on the team worked well together.) Are leaving now. (We are leaving now.)
Later, when the topics of fragments and run-ons come up, explain to students that a fragment is a group of words that is not a sentence because it is missing a subject, a predicate, or both; and a run-on is two or more sentences written as one sentence.
• Fragment Right there in the middle of the street
• Run-on We went bowling we ate pizza we sang songs we had a great time.
Demonstrate ways to correct the example fragment and run-on. (He stopped right there in the middle of the street. We went bowling, we ate pizza, and we sang songs. We had a great time. We went bowling, ate pizza, and sang songs; we had a great time.) Then offer additional fragments and run-ons and ask students to suggest ways to correct them. Finally, point out that while fragments and run-ons may sometimes be used for effect, especially in dialogue, they should not be used in formal writing or speaking. |
| Language 1.g. Correctly use frequently confused words (e.g., to, too, two; there, their). | SE 2: 198
TE 3.1: 347c, 363e, 371c;
5.1: 176e, 199a, 199h, Di•20
RWN: 193, 198
After students have been introduced to the concept of homophones in Spelling, point out that because these words sound alike but have different meanings, they often cause problems for writers. Explain that the only way students can be sure that they are using the correct word is to check that the meaning of the word matches the context of their writing.
Write the following frequently confused words on index cards, one word on a card: ate/eight, cent/sent/scent, hear/here, hole/whole, its/it’s, our/hour, there/their/they’re, to/too/two, who’s/whose, your/you’re. Say a sentence, omitting the homophone, and display the two (or three) cards showing the possible homophones. Ask students to choose the correct word and to explain their choice. For example: Ms. Dawson asked, “______ coat is that hanging in the closet?” Show the cards for who’s and whose. Students choose whose and explain that it is a possessive pronoun that modifies the noun coat, while who’s, a contraction of the words who and is, does not make sense in the sentence. |

In the Student Edition, capitalization and punctuation are taught in conjunction with the weekly writing lesson. In the Teacher’s Edition, capitalization and punctuation, along with grammar and usage, make up the Conventions strand that appears in all lessons. The Conventions topic presented in the Let’s Write It! lesson in the Student Edition is taught and practiced in all the Teacher’s Edition lessons for the week. The topic also appears in the Differentiated Instruction (DI) pages at the end of the week and in the Interactive Review (IR) week at the end of the unit. Spelling is a separate main component of the Language Arts section. See the references for Language Standard 2.b for more information about spelling in the program.

| Language 2.a. Use correct capitalization. | SE 2: 375
TE 6.1: 353d, 363c, 373e, 374–375, 381c, 381o, 381p |

In the Teacher’s Edition, capitalization is formally reviewed as part of the Conventions strand. The lessons explain that proper nouns, such as persons’ names and titles, place names, names of documents, titles of works, and historical events, are capitalized. In the Student Edition, Capitalization is discussed in a Unit 6 writing lesson. The checklists for other writing lessons in the Student Edition also remind students to use capitalization (see, for example, SE 1: 70, 452). Students proofread their own writing for correct use of capitalization in the proofreading phase of the writing process. The Proofreading section of the Writing lessons reminds students that they proofread for capitalization as well as spelling, punctuation, and grammar (see, for example, TE 1.1: 45p, 77p).

| Language 2.b. Use commas and quotation marks to mark direct speech and quotations from a text. | SE 2: 438–439
TE 3.2: 459b; 6.2: 417d, 427c, 437e, 438–439, 443c, 443o, 443p, DI•99, IR46, CW•13 |

After students are introduced to commas and quotation marks to mark direct speech with speech tags, explain that quotation marks are also used to mark quotations taken from a text. Demonstrate how to do this. Read aloud a paragraph from a newsmagazine or newspaper. Point out a sentence of the author’s and tell students that you really like the way the author made this point and you want to use it word for word in your writing. To avoid plagiarism, you will use quotation marks and mention the author. On the board, first write the phrase According to author [author’s name], then write the author’s sentence, and finally enclose the sentence in quotation marks. Point out that you also could have used a phrase such as Author [author’s name] says. Ask students to do the same with a sentence or sentences from their favorite trade book.

In the Teacher's Edition, comma use is explicitly presented in the Conventions strand. In the Student Edition, use of commas is taught in conjunction with the weekly Let's Write It! lesson. As part of the writing process in the accompanying Teacher's Edition lesson, students proofread their own writing for proper use of commas in compound sentences. |
| Language 2.d. Spell grade-appropriate words correctly, consulting references as needed. | Each week in the Teacher's Edition a spelling concept is pretested on Day 1; practiced on Days 2, 3, and 4 using activities, strategies, and workbook pages; and tested again on Day 5. The spelling concept also appears in the Differentiated Instruction (DI) pages at the end of the week and in the Interactive Review (IR) week at the end of the unit. See the following representative pages for spelling in Unit 1:
TE 1.1: 23c, 31c, 39e, 45c, 45o, DI•20, 49c, 61c, 69e, 77c, 77o, DI•45, 81c, 93c, 101e, 109c, 109o, DI•70; 1.2: 113c, 123c, 131e, 137c, 137o, DI•95, 141c, 151c, 157e, 165c, 165o, DI•120, IR16, IR26, IR36, IR46, IR56 |
| Knowledge of Language | The program's Conventions strand focuses on grammar skills and structure. Topics include parts of speech such as adjectives, adverbs, pronouns, verbs, nouns, and conjunctions; sentence types and structure; capitalization; and punctuation. The Literary Terms section focuses on figurative language including similes, metaphors, idioms as well as topics on structure, literary devices, sound devices, word choice such as sensory words, humor, foreshadowing, onomatopoeia, stanza, and tone. Students apply their understandings of language and its conventions as they read and respond to reading selections and participate in the program's writing and listening and speaking activities. See the following pages from Unit 2 as representative examples:
SE 1: 222–223, 227
TE 2.1: 199d, 200d, 205a, 211c, 221e, 222–223, 223a–223b, 227a, 227c, 227i, 227p |
| Language 3.a. Choose words and phrases to convey ideas precisely. | SE 1: 40–41, 77; 2: 45, 74–75, 248–249, 406–407, 438–439
TE 1.1: 41b–41c, 77a, DI•25; 1.2: 137d; 2.1: 191b, 251b; 2.2: CW•17; 3.1: 343d; 3.2: 443d, CW•17; 4.1: 45b, 51d, 75b, 81d; 5.1: 241d, 249b, 255d; 5.2: CW•17;
6.1: 407b, DI•75, CW•7; 6.2: 439b, 443e, DI•100
The program strongly emphasizes the importance of word choice in writing and speaking. Examples of appropriate words and phrases are often pointed out in the Student Edition models. Many of the mini-lessons in the Teacher's Edition writing lessons focus on the kinds of words students should choose for a particular kind of writing, including vivid words, exact words, strong verbs, and persuasive words. Listening and Speaking instruction often discusses the need to choose words that are appropriate for the particular occasion. In addition, students learn that when they write or speak, they should look for vague or weak words that they can replace with more exact or more vivid words that will convey their ideas more precisely. For additional word choice references, see Writing Standard 3.d. |

TE 3.1: 320d, 328–329, 334–335, 343i
Whenever appropriate to the type of writing or speaking they are doing, students are encouraged to make language choices that are suitable for their audience and purpose. In addition to the use of formal or informal language, language choice includes word choice, such as persuasive words or sensory words. Word choice is an important topic in the writing lessons in both the Student Edition and the Teacher’s Edition. See the following references:

The program’s Vocabulary strand in the Student and Teacher’s Editions provides instruction in word-recognition strategies and concepts. Instruction includes using the dictionary to identify word meaning, syllabication, and pronunciation. Questions in the Teacher’s Edition help students apply the use of dictionaries as they read selections. |
| Language 5. Demonstrate understanding of figurative language, word relationships, and nuances in word meanings. | SE 1: 310–311
TE 2.1: 200d, 205a, 227i, 251b; 2.2: 310–311, 311a; 3.1: 383a; 4.2: 144d, 165i; 6.1: 386d, 413i
Word relationships including words related by meaning, such as synonyms and antonyms; by symbols, such as homographs; and by base words and affixes are a focus of the program’s Vocabulary and Word Analysis strands. See these representative pages:
SE 1: 114–115, 136; 2: 176–177, 198
TE 1.2: 114e, 119a, 122–123, 137a, 142c, 165i; 5.1: 176e, 186c, 188–189, 189a; 5.2: 232c, 255i
Encourage students to use dictionaries to distinguish subtleties in meaning. Many intermediate dictionaries include synonym study features that distinguish meanings of related words. Provide an example of two words with related meanings and distinguish the meanings for students. For example, scatter and strew have a shared meaning of “spread out.” However, scatter means “to throw around so things are spread out,” and strew means “to throw or drop messily in no order.” One might scatter birdseed on the ground but strew clothes around a room.
Have students use a dictionary to help them distinguish the meanings of the words in the following word pairs and then use the words appropriately in sentences.
- conceal, hide
- proud, boastful
- quiet, silent
- shy, timid

| Language 6. Acquire and use accurately grade-appropriate general academic and domain-specific words and phrases, including those that signal precise actions, emotions, or states of being (e.g., quizzed, whined, stammered) and that are basic to a particular topic (e.g., wildlife, conservation, and endangered when discussing animal preservation). | Each selection lesson plan contains Amazing Words, which are content words related to the unit theme and the specific selection. The words are presented in a variety of contexts and are then used by students in daily activities to help them master the use and meanings of the words. Day 1 of each lesson plan also contains Academic Vocabulary to help students learn the meanings of general academic words. See the following representative pages for the first week of Unit 1:
TE 1.1: 21a, 23a, 24b, 32b, 42b, 45f |
Language 1.f. Ensure subject-verb and pronoun-antecedent agreement.

TE 3.1: 375d, 387c, 393e, 401c, 401p–401q; 4.1: 85d, 95c, 105e, 111c, 111p–111q

In its Conventions lessons, the program provides explicit instruction in identifying and following rules for subject-verb agreement and pronouns and their antecedents.

To provide additional practice, ask students to choose the verbs or antecedents needed in the following sentences.

• Anna wrote ______ report on the buffalo. (her)
• Every day the friends ______ in the park. (play)
• I ______ to see that movie. (want)
• Nate and Cal are going to the movie with ______ dad. (their)

Language 3.a. Choose words and phrases for effect.

As noted in the Grade 4 Writing Standards, the program strongly emphasizes the importance of choosing words carefully to achieve the desired effect in a particular kind of writing. In addition to discussing specific examples of well-chosen words in models in the Student Edition and Teacher’s Edition, many of the mini-lessons in the Teacher’s Edition writing lessons focus on how to choose words, including vivid words, exact words, strong verbs, and persuasive words. In addition, students learn that as they draft and revise, they should look for vague or weak words that they can replace with more exact or more vivid words to improve the effect of their writing.
